

Miranda Howe

My sculptural ceramic pieces are rooted in a deep love for geologic elements, decorative ornamentation, and architectural components. I am captivated by the spirit of nature in counterpart with the structures of man and often use one to complement the other. Ancient ruins, quilting fabric, dried riverbeds, brick streets, wallpaper, and strata are but of few of the inspirations for my work.